LINDSEY

Victory Prima Pils

5.3% ABV, German Pilsner Available in 6 packs

Prima Pils is nothing short of a good quality, hop-driven pilsner. Prima is brewed with 2-row German Pils malt and a double dose of both German and Czech hops. Prima Pils has all the standard pilsner characteristics: a nice straw color with a bone white head and a nice biscuity malt in the nose and up front on the palate. All of that leads straight through to it's signature hoppy, bitter, extra-dry finish not usually that forward in a traditional pilsner.

"Pilsners are one of my favorite styles of beer and Prima is right up there in my top 5. Definitely one worth trying if you are into pilsners and love hops; Prima Pils just has that extra hop kick."

AUGUSTINE

Brooklyn Oktoberfest

5.5% ABV, Marzen/Oktobefest Available in 6 packs

Marzen/Oktobefest beer is the original fest beer. Brewed in late spring, it was then conditioned in ice-filled caves in order to last for the harvest festivals in September. Brooklyn Oktoberfest is a very fine example of an American brewed Oktoberfest. It has been cold fermented and aged for months to achieve the classic Marzen taste. It has a nice rounded malt body with bready notes and hints of toffee. There is just enough hops to round out the body, but not too much so that it doesn't outshine the juicy malt profile.

"It is almost the perfect time of year for Oktoberfest beers and Brooklyn Okto is one you should try. I loved the malty sweetness and flavorful body."

Maui Brewing Coconut Porter

5.7% ABV, American Porter Available in 4 pack cans

Maui Brewing's CoCoNut Porter is a 5.7% ABV American Porter brewed in Hawaii. It is a black colored beer with a mocha head. The toasted coconut taste is easily detectable without being over-powering. Coffee and vanilla tastes are also present with a little chocolaty sweetness. It is a medium body beer that is both silky smooth and highly drinkable.

"Maui Brewing has a fantastic line-up of beers but the CoCoNut Porter is defiantly their shining star. It has lots of the roasted qualities of a good dark beer with sweetness to balance it."
